

Professional Testimony

It is unfortunate at times that companies find themselves in litigation. Even with the best legal representation, navigating the legal system can be challenging. In most oil and gas litigation, whether the plaintiff or defendant, some type of professional testimony is needed.

Aeon Petroleum Consultants is a registered professional engineering firm. We specialize in petroleum engineering and can provide professional testimony and reports for the following:

- o Reserves and resources estimates
- o Petroleum economics
- o Unconventional resources (i.e., shale oil and gas, tight oil and gas, coalbed methane)
- o Reservoir engineering
- o Reservoir mapping
- o Offset drainage
- o Disputes over net ownership of production
- o Well spacing and increased well density

Aeon Petroleum Consultants is able to work with both plaintiffs and defendants on legal issues. We will work with your attorney to prepare reports, exhibits, and provide professional testimony to the exacting standards required by the court system.
